

CATALOG OF CHOICE COMPONENT DISCIPLINES

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

7M04170 – EMBA – BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Level of education: master's degree

Duration of study: 1 year

Admission year: 2024

Module	Cycle	Component	Name of the discipline	Total labor intensity		Semester	Learning outcomes	Brief description of the discipline	Prerequisites	Post-requisites
				in academic hours	in academic credits
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
Module 1-IT competences	BD	KV	BI platforms in business	150	5	1	LO1 LO2 LO9	Explores Business Intelligence (BI) and tools that help organizations analyze and visualize data to understand data and make informed decisions, process optimization, market analysis and competitiveness. During the training process, projects related to the creation of BI reports and data analysis in real business scenarios are completed.	Undergraduate disciplines	Experimental research work of a master's student, Final certification
	BD	KV	Big Data in the digital economy				LO1 LO2	Considers the characteristics of large volumes of data, their sources and types, studies tools and platforms for collecting, storing, processing and analyzing big data, such as Hadoop, Spark, NoSQL databases and others; develops skills in using data analytics to support business processes and make strategic decisions. The study examines specific cases of using big data	Undergraduate disciplines	Experimental research work of a master's student, Final certification in various industries and business areas.

Module 2- Basic disciplines	BD	KV	Financial reporting and control	150	5	1	LO3 LO7	Builds the skills and knowledge necessary to analyze and manage the financial activities of an organization, as well as read, interpret and analyze financial statements, such as balance sheets, profit and loss statements, cash flow statements and others; the principles of compiling and presenting financial reports, creating forecasts and models based on financial data, etc. are discussed.	Undergraduate disciplines	Experimental research work of a master's student, Final certification
	BD	KV	Management accounting in companies				LO3 LO7 LO8	Methods and tools for accounting and analysis of financial information are studied for the purpose of making decisions in the management of an organization; Accounting principles and standards, the budgeting process, the use of key financial indicators, determining the cost of production of a product or service, accounting data for making strategic and tactical decisions that will allow you to effectively manage resources and achieve your goals are considered.	Undergraduate disciplines	Experimental research work of a master's student, Final certification
Module 3-Legal competencies	BD	KV	Business legislation	120	4	1	LO4 LO9	The laws, norms and rules that regulate the activities of enterprises and organizations are studied, the system of law and its sources, civil, corporate, labor, tax, commercial law for the successful management of an enterprise, compliance with laws and the prevention of legal problems, as well as regulations in areas of consumer protection and regulatory business practices in the interests of consumers	Undergraduate disciplines	Experimental research work of a master's student, Final certification
	BD	KV	Legal environment of business				LO4 LO9	Examines various aspects of the legal environment in which companies and entrepreneurs operate, studying the basics of business law, protecting the rights and interests of entrepreneurs, corporate governance and international and cross-border law. Study helps you understand the legal aspects of doing business and comply with the laws and regulations governing business activities to ensure business success and sustainability in today's legal environment	Undergraduate disciplines	Experimental research work of a master's student, Final certification
Module 2- Basic	PD	KV	Ethics and	150	5	1	LO1	Explores ethical theories that examine the	Undergraduate	Experimental disciplines			values in business and leadership				LO5 LO6	different ethical approaches that can be applied to business and leadership, how to develop ethical considerations when making business decisions and leading an organization, and develops the skills to use the tools and knowledge needed to make ethically sound decisions and lead effectively in modern business world, developing business strategies consistent with values.	disciplines	research work of a master's student, Final certification

	BD	KV	Communication skills and conflict management				LO4 LO5 LO6	Studies theories and develops practical skills necessary for effective communication and interaction with the outside world, resolving and managing conflicts at various levels, improving relationships in professional life, examines the basics of communication, interpersonal and intercultural communications, conflict management, conflict resolution skills, effective team interaction; explores communication processes in groups, teamwork and the influence of leadership on communication	Undergraduate disciplines	Experimental research work of a master's student, Final certification
			Total	570	19

Head of the department "Logistics and management in transport"

Agreed:
Head of «Global Trans Logistics» LLP

Kenzhebaeva G.Zh

Borsch A.B.
26.02.2024